Event Tomorrow!

The first SHCC sub-group meeting will take place tomorrow (Saturday 8/3/13) at Panera Bread, Town Center Mall (in the meeting room) at 2:30pm.

The group is the Community Response Group, and the meeting will be its initial organizational meeting to decide on plans and procedures.

The Community Response Group's purpose will be to mobilize its members to respond publically to important local events. For example, the group may work together on writing Letters to the Editor about a certain topic, and then submit the Letters individually under their own names. Or the group might send multiple letters of the same message to organizations, for example, the Board of Education, in response to recent community issues.

The group leader, John Wilkinson, has a good eye and concerned heart for things going on in our community, and would like to help others voice their opinions as well.

Humanist Quote of the Week

"Conversion...feasts on the wills of the weakly, loving to impress, to impose, adoring her own features stamped on the face of the populace...on a tub she stands preaching; shrouds herself in white and walks penitentially disguised as brotherly love through factories and parliaments; offers help, but desires power; smites out of her way roughly the dissentient, or dissatisfied; bestows her blessing on those who, looking upward, catch submissively from her eyes the light of their own." --Virginia Woolf, Mrs. Dalloway

Stay Tuned!

We hope that you are all having a great summer, and that we'll see you at our August Picnic!
