

Charleston Humanist Community, Inc.

September 2016 Newsletter
www.CWVhumanists.org

Email: contact@cwvhumanists.org
Call or text: (304) 941-3778

Upcoming Events

To receive our most up-to-date announcements, please join our email list and/or Facebook group.
Children are welcome at all our events unless otherwise specified.

2nd Saturdays Dinner at Plaza Maya

Sat., Sept. 10, 2016, 5:30pm

Plaza Maya Mexican restaurant in Kanawha City – 3112 Chesterfield Ave., Charleston, WV 25304

We have officially decided to make this a regular monthly event, occurring on the 2nd Saturday of each month, and a joint event with the Kanawha Valley Atheists and Agnostics Meetup group. Everyone is welcome to join us for an evening of laid-back socializing and yummy Mexican food.

Ladies' Craft Social

Sun., Sept. 25, 2016, 3:00pm

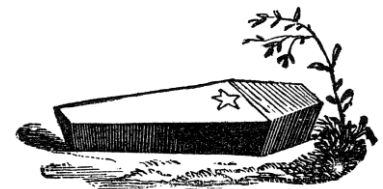

911 Glendale Ave., South Charleston, WV 25303 – it's the 3rd house on the right past the church.

Women: bring a craft you're working on—or just yourself—and join us for friendly chatting and refreshments.

News

New Guest Blog Post

Our blog and website, www.CWVhumanists.org, is currently featuring a new guest blog post from one of our members, Jim Spence. Jim is also an ordained secular officiant in WV through the Church of the Flying Spaghetti Monster, licensed to perform legal weddings in WV.

But weddings are not the only kinds of ceremonies that some of us might want to separate from religion. Funerals are even more commonly steeped in religious expression. Jim is available to deliver secular eulogies, and his new guest blog post for us, entitled "The Pathway," is an example of some thoughts he might use in a secular eulogy. It is also just an encouraging and thoughtful essay to read!

CHC members are welcome to send us original writings for guest posts on our blog.
